

“What a revolution!”

Optometrist Prakash Rughani with Eunice DeCampi

Eunice DeCampi was never really happy wearing glasses and was considering eye surgery when she heard about Ortho K at Visioncare.

This revolutionary treatment seemed not only to provide complete freedom from glasses, but was also the answer to Eunice’s worries about surgery. So how did it go?

I was ready for a change as I have worn glasses for over thirty years, and was considering eye surgery so I could get rid of glasses for good. finally, I had my eyes tested. Mr Rughani went through all the different options available today and I finally decided to try Ortho K. I was concerned at first that they might not work as one is supposed to wear them for a minimum amount of time during sleep. I run my own business, so it means long hours and not much sleep, but i needn’t have worried.

What a revolution! After using them for just a few days I could drive and watch TV without glasses and it felt good though it was a bit strange, as I have worn glasses for such a long time.

I have two young children and joining them swimming and playing in water without having to worry about my glasses getting splashes of water is such fun.

From day one the longest time I have ever worn them is six hours and now I sometimes wear them for shortened periods every other day.

Thank you for making my everyday life so much easier!
